Interior Summary

Location #2 1st floor is in a rectangular ~~structure~~<sup>structure</sup> w/ a few lend. Structure is ~~one~~ neutral color, old (ca. '40's or '50's) where purpose has changed over the years. Structure is surrounded by open area, probably grassy, + more to it is strictly restricted. Inside are corridors + large rooms. Inside at least one room are objects, resembling functional type furniture - i. e., tab-type tables + desks. Some sort of highly complicated/festive type activity is conducted, possibly involving intricate parts. A sense of a requirement for small hand-tools + considerable manual dexterity is present. Further sense of "finding out what something does" - the idea of assembling something, + sifting back + scrutinizing what occurs. A further sense of a sort of "reverse engineering" - where the original function or means of operation isn't known, so someone works with it - takes it apart, puts it back, + tries to see what makes it tick... .
